Tuesday, April 11, 2017
12:00 p.m. to 1:00 p.m

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the program, participants will be able to:

- Describe the impact of professional behavior on patient safety.
- Demonstrate the relationship between professional identify formation and professionalism.
- Identify tools and strategies to support professional identify formation of both students and residents.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Thunder Bay Regional Health Sciences Centre (TBRHSC), in collaboration with the Northern Ontario School of Medicine (NOSM), provides monthly Regional Education Rounds (RER). The RER are multidisciplinary, interprofessional, and intended to foster effective team care. This session will focus on linking public health and health care.

ABSTRACT

Teaching professional behaviour and addressing professional lapses is essential for safe patient care. Participants will explore how health-care team members, educational staff, faculty and learners have a role to play in supporting safe professional learning and working environments.
